FortiManager

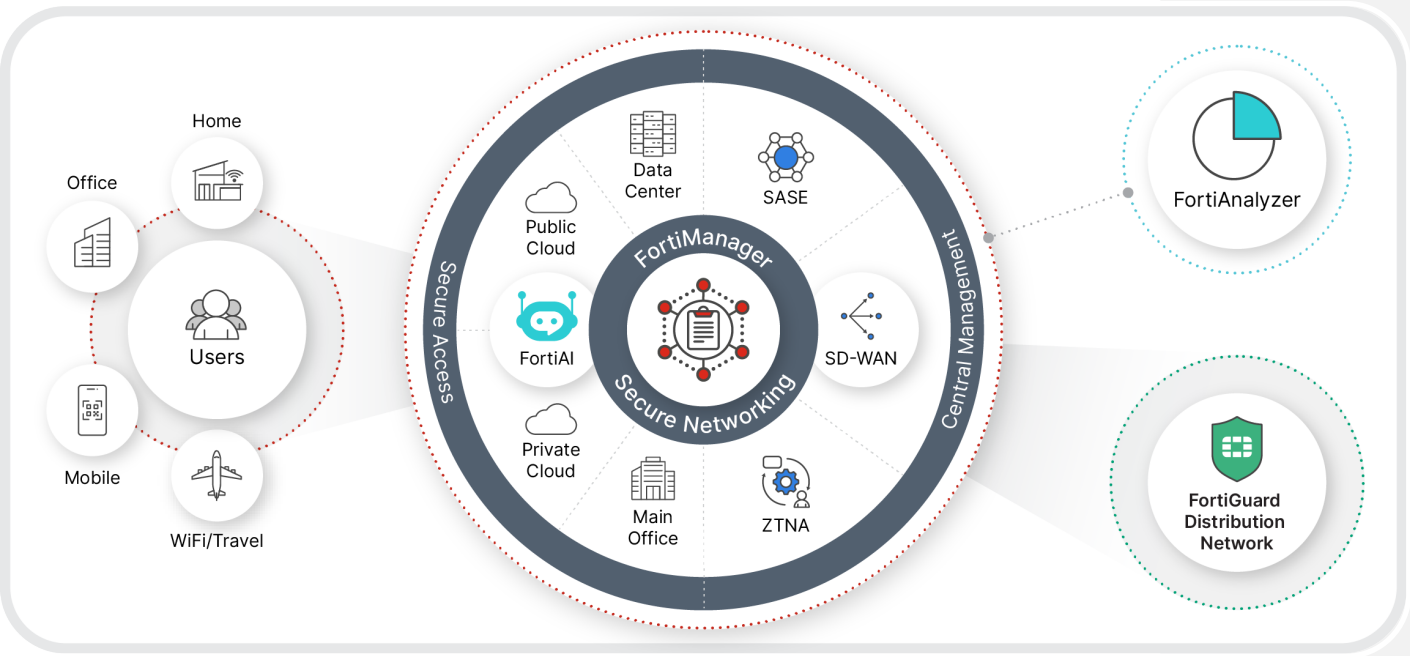

Single-Pane Management, Automation and AI-Assisted Operations

FortiManager provides a comprehensive, efficient and scalable Central-Management solution for automated configuration provisioning of firewalls, switches and wireless networks. Single-Pane Management simplified by built-in automation features is used to securely onboard new devices, install a consistent security policy and network configuration across the enterprise environment. AI- Assisted operations enable NOC Teams to perform complex network provisioning (SD-WAN) and execute advanced end-to-end network troubleshooting and remediations.

Product Offerings

FortiManager is available as hardware appliance, VM, Cloud, and provides key features for device onboarding, automated configuration with templates, zero-touch provisioning, unified policy management and a scalable design for managing large number of devices geographically dispersed. A detailed breakdown of features is illustrated below.
